Fairly unique platformer. You are a naked green alien with red hair and suction cups for hands. Besides the basic jumping on enemies attack, you get bombs a both a weapon and utility to get through the level. The suction cup hands allow the player to scale up walls which is absolutely necessary for some levels. I grew up with the first game, but finally get to play the other two.. An enjoyable early 90's platform game. Well worth playing.. This was probably the first platformer I ever played on a PC. The reason why this is relevant is because I am a very important person on the internet and when I become prime minister of everything I will make it mandatory to play this game at least once. (p.s.. Best game from my childhood.. I highly recommend to play and enjoy this old school classic DOS game to play & relive your old childhood memories.. Plenty of levels to keep you entertained for the cost. Music and sound: 9/10 Visuals: 9/10 It seems to have lasted this long for a reason. Sound and visuals get high rating because they out-perform other games from that era that are also available on Steam (check out some of my other reviews.)
